What can Oregano oil do for you?

Natural antibiotic

In your fight against bacteria and infections oregano oil's carvacrol is one of your greatest allies. Carvacrol is a very powerful natural antibiotic.

Gut Health

Gut symptoms like diarrhea, pain, and bloating are common and are caused by gut parasites. Oregano oil kills gut parasites improving gut health and protecting against leaky gut syndrome.

Livestock feed

Antibiotics are used regularly in animal feed to increase conversion efficiency and lower morbidity/mortality rates. Oregano's carvacrol is one of the active chemical components of animal feed.

Poultry Feed

Oregano oil is a natural, less toxic, residue free feed supplement for poultry when compared to other synthetic ingredients. Using oregano oil in broiler diets improved feed conversion ratio and feed utilisation.

Health Benefits

Oregano oil has a variety of health benefits. Research has confirmed it to be effective in treating yeast infections, lowering cholesterol and help with cancer.

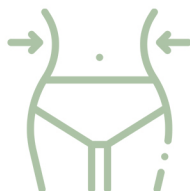

Anti-inflammatory

Carvacrol, a key component in oregano oil, has been shown to reduce inflammation. Combined with a carrier oil can be used directly on the area affected.

Weight Loss

Carvacrol appeared to reverse the chain of events that can lead to the formation of fat cells, improving the chances of long lasting results in weight loss.

Natural Medicine

Add one drop of Oregano oil to your preferred beverage (water, juice, tea) once a day to enjoy the multiple health benefits of this natural bio medicine.
