

Why Kochii Eucalyptus Oil?

100% Australian grown and produced Kochii Eucalyptus Oil is extracted at Kalannie in the central wheatbelt of Western Australian.

Sustainable production system

The trees provide important land care benefits to the region. The entire oil production process from beginning through to end user has a negative carbon footprint.

Best quality worldwide

In order to be considered 'Eucalyptus oil', the chemical standard for trade must contain a minimum of 80% cineole; Eucalyptus kochii contains 90-95% cineole. This makes it the highest quality natural eucalyptus oil available in today's market.

Uniqueness: can only be grown in WA

Backed by tens of millions of years of eucalypt evolution in Australia, these trees thrive in the very hot summers of the semi-arid central wheatbelt. In fact, the trees grow poorly in 'mild' regions. The only place where Eucalyptus kochii has ever been known to grow well under cultivation is in farmland in its natural habitat.

Aetherial

The world's best quality natural eucalyptus oil, grown and produced in Western Australia

Kochii Eucalyptus Oil is produced exclusively from Eucalyptus kochii (pronounced "koh-chee-eye"), which is grown only near Kalannie in the semi-arid wheatbelt of Western Australia.

The leaves of Eucalyptus kochii contain the highest oil content of any of the 800 species of eucalypts. More importantly, the oil of Eucalyptus kochii has 90-95% concentration of cineole, the highest of any species in the world. This makes the oil of Eucalyptus kochii the highest quality Eucalyptus oil available on the market, worldwide.

Its uniqueness and purity provides a strong but relatively delicate fragrance, which is both evocative and tantalizing to the senses.

Contact Us

Call +61 (0) 404 462203 or email aetherialoils@gmail.com

Address

3 Henry Street Otway
Adelaide SA, 5013

Website

www.aetherialoils.com

The Good Oil

While there are hundreds of different species of eucalyptus growing naturally in Australia, very few can be used to produce medicinal quality eucalyptus oil. With up to 90-95% natural cineole concentration, Kochii Eucalyptus Oil is recognized as the richest natural eucalyptus oil ever known.

This makes it powerful in common domestic uses such as:

Colds & Flu

Ease a cold or flu by pouring a cup of boiling water into a large bowl and then add 10 drops of Kochii Eucalyptus Oil. Place a towel over your head and bowl before inhaling deeply for 5-10 minutes.

Natural Cleaner

Add two teaspoons of Kochii Eucalyptus Oil and a teaspoon of detergent to a spray bottle of water. Spray onto hard surfaces and wipe to remove dirt and grease and leave a fresh Kochii scent.

Respiratory Problems

Treat respiratory problems, such as asthma and bronchitis by mixing Kochii Eucalyptus Oil with coconut oil. Rub into skin on your upper chest and breathe.

Air Freshener

Add Kochii Eucalyptus Oil to a household diffuser and let the fragrance permeate the room. Alternatively, add two teaspoons to a spray bottle of water and mist around your house or office.

Wound Treatment

Eucalyptus oil has antiseptic and germicidal qualities and can be used for wounds, ulcers, burns, cuts and sores. Take care applying oil to skin. Diluting with a carrier oil is recommended.

Deodoriser

Wipe down surfaces and fabrics such as dog beds with a rag soaked in a Kochii Eucalyptus solution. Leave to dry in the sun for a fresh, odour-free home!

Hair Care

Add a few drops of Kochii Eucalyptus Oil with some coconut oil and massage through your hair. This moisturises and can ease dandruff and itchy scalp.

Adhesive & Spot Removal

Apply Kochii Eucalyptus Oil directly to stubborn adhesive residue or spot stains. Try it first on an inconspicuous area to check for adverse reactions.

